PROF. KOEBELE'S INVESTIGATIONS

of Maui That They Are Cultivating a Pest.

MAUI, August 21.-By the Wednesday steamer, Professor Koebele, the celebrated entomologist, arrived on Maui, and has been staying at James Lindsay's. Haiku. His mission on the Isl and is concerning the lantana blight. He states that the indiscriminate use of it is liable to lead the rancher, planter or farmer into trouble. After this blight has devoured and destroyed the lantana, what next? What will it then subsist upon? It will demand food in nature somewhat similar to the lantana, the coffee plant for instance. At Ulupalakua, where there is no coffee and no crop of any value save the grass of the pastures, this foe will probably vanish after the lantana has been consumed; but at Kaupo or in other where there are coffee plantations, this blight should not be introduced, for when once started on its course of destruction nothing can stay ts progress except the annihilation of what it feeds upon. The Professor has spent several days in visiting Haleakala ranch and other places where he could obtain any information concerning the blight or the Japanese beetle.

ans in that vicinity have obtained some of it from the ranch and are placing it upon the lantana growing on their lands. Nothing now can stay its progress in that neighborhood. Inasmuch as Kahikinui residents have also taken the blight to their lands, the Kaupo coffee planters should take great precautions.

Weather-Hot and dry; the drought continues.

Sugar Will Be King.

Sugar culture will not be abandoned on the Islands for many years, and when cane sugar goes, beet sugar will probably take its place, so that there is no need to worry yet awhile.-Maui News.

Refineries Everywhere.

While it is a dubious proposition as to the establishing of a sugar refinery on the Islands, still it is one of the possibilities of the future that every sugar mill on the Islands will eventually refine its own sugar. No method for doing this cheaply and successfully has yet been discovered, but it is an inviting field for investigation and experiment. Nor should it be left for outsiders to make the discovery. At present the planters tax hemselves twenty-five cents per ton on the sugar production of the Islands for the purpose of maintaining an experiment station at Honolulu, to investigate The Entomologist Warns People varieties of cane and cognate subjects. They should go a step further and tax sugar another twenty-five cents per ton, the proceeds to be used to pay the salary of an expert who could devote his whole time and talent to discovering a method of refining sugar cheaply, at the time and place of its manufacture.-Maui

MAUI LIKES THE NEW BANK PLAN

Pleased With the Change in Mr. Lufkin's Charter Arrangements.

MAUI, August 24.-Mr. Chas. D. Lufkin announces a change in the program as regards the organization of the proposed Maui bank. Instead of an institution formed under Territorial laws with a capital of $200,000, one-half paid up, it is now planned to establish a national bank with a capital of $25,000, fully paid up.

This move was made owing to the present stringency of the money market. It is a wise one, inasmuch as the $25,000 in addition to the estimated amount that will be deposited in the savings department will probably meet all demands made by Maui people desiring loans. The companies wanting very large amounts are the owners of all over the Ulupalakua region and is the sugar plantations who, when they preading very rapidly. The Hawaii- are in need of extra funds, negotiate

> There are many country banks on the Mainland doing a thriving business with no larger capital than the one proposed.

> Mr. Lufkin states that owing to the reduction of the capital stock the number of shares to be issued has been more than subscribed for, but wishing to render the enterprise a popular one locally he will endeavor to allow the small subscribers to retain the full number of shares subscribed for by

Tax Assessor W. T. Robinson has made a proposition to construct a suitable office-a room twenty feet by thirty feet-on Main street, Wailuku, and lease it on favorable terms for a number of years for the use of the bank. The proposed building will be placed on the site formerly occupied by the H. L. Chase photographic gallery, just above the law offices of George Hons. of Ewa are visiting the D. B. Baldwins Mr. Robinson himself will use one-half of the building, which will be forty by thirty, as an assessor's office, > Lahaina is rejoicing in an abundance of cheap poi and fresh fish, the former from Molokai and the gulches mauka of Lahaina, and the latter from the Lanai coast.-News.
